2.4.Use of accounting estimates and judgments

In preparing the financial statements, the Company applies certain accounting estimates. Some items in the financial statements are valued because they cannot be measured accurately. The assessment includes judgments based on the latest available information.

Accounting estimates are used to estimate the useful life of tangible and intangible assets, the fair value of receivables, ie their collectibility, the fair value of available-for-sale investments and other items.

During periods, certain estimates may be revised if changes occur in the circumstances that were the basis for the assessment, as a result of new information or subsequent developments.

3. BASIC ACCOUNTING POLITICS

The financial statements are prepared on the basis of the fair value of the financial assets, except for those whose fair value cannot be measured reliably. Other financial assets and liabilities and non-financial assets and liabilities are presented at amortized cost or historical values.

3.1. Revenues and expenses from interest

Revenues and expenses from interest are recognized in the income statement for all interestbearing financial assets and liabilities, using the effective interest method.

Revenues and expenses from interest may arise from: cash and cash equivalents, loans and credits, investments in debt securities, short-term and long-term liabilities on loans and credits, and more.

Revenues and expenses from interest are calculated and collected on the basis of an agreement concluded between the creditor and the debtor and in accordance with the legal regulations in the Republic of North Macedonia.

The effective interest rate is the rate that discounts the estimated future cash flows for the expected life of the financial instrument and the calculation includes all fees paid or received, transaction costs and premiums or discounts between the parties.

The fees and commissions that constitute an integral part of the financial instrument's effective interest, the transaction costs that are directly attributable to the transaction and the premiums and discounts granted to the financial instrument are deemed to be directly related to the approval of the financial instrument.

They are not fully recognized as income from fees and commissions in the income statement, but are appropriately differentiated and recognized in the income statement during the maturity of the financial instrument. e- mail: rba@russellbedford.mk

The prescribed depreciation rates for fixed assets owned by the Company are as follows:

Computers	25%
Office furniture	20%
Other equipment	25%

3.10. Impairment of non-financial assets

Property, plant and equipment are checked for possible impairment whenever conditions arise that indicate that their carrying amount is higher than the estimated recoverable amount. Impairment loss (impairment) is recorded for the amount for which the present value exceeds the recoverable amount of the asset. The replacement value is a higher value than the net selling price of the asset and its use value.

Net selling price is the amount obtained from the sale of an asset in a transaction between well-known entities. Use value is the present value of the estimated future cash inflows expected to arise from the continuing use of the assets and their disposal at the end of the useful life. The recoverable amount is estimated for individual assets or if this is not possible for the entire group of assets that generates cash flow.

Loss due to impairment of financial assets

The financial company assesses at the date of preparation of the balance sheet, whether there is objective evidence, that the financial asset or group of financial assets has a loss due to impairment.

The amount of impairment losses on financial assets that are carried at amortized cost is calculated as the difference between the carrying amount and the present value of the expected cash inflows discounted at the original effective interest rate of such financial instrument.

Russell Bedford Atanasovski DOO Skopje Bul. 8mi Septemvri no.2-2 floor 6 No.613 1000 Skopje Republic of North Macedonia Phone: +389 (2) 30 90 495 +389 (2) 30 96 226 e- mail: rba@russellbedford.mk

3.12. Provisions for losses due to impairment of loans and receivables

Provisions for impairment of loans and receivables are established if the Financial Company determines that there is objective evidence that the Financial Company will not be able to collect all due amounts on the loan under the original contractual terms. The following elements are taken as criteria in the classification: creditworthiness of the client, tidiness and delay in settling the obligations by the client and the quality of the collateral.

Deposits in banks are also subject to changes in interest rates depending on movements in the financial markets. This exposes the Company to a potential risk of interest rate changes.

The risk of interest rate changes and reduction of interest rate risk was regulated through direct negotiations with banks.

Liquidity risk or illiquidity risk exists when the Company will not be able to pay its liabilities to creditors and creditors on time. The Company has no liquidity problems in its operations because it pursues a policy of timely provision of the necessary funds to pay the liabilities.
